

banglanatak dot com invites you to explore Community-led Heritage Tourism at Art & Craft Villages in West Bengal, India

Quite a few art and culture villages in West Bengal have evolved in recent years as cultural tourism destinations. About 60-150 community artists live in each of these villages. One can plan a visit to these villages at any time of the year, preferably between September and April and learn about Bengal's unique cultural heritage. You can stay at nearby hotels and visit the villages. School/ colleges can plan a trip with students & faculty, you can plan a trip with friends and family. Each village holds a 3-day Village Folk Mela celebrating their Art & Culture. Join us in celebrating the Cultural Diversity of Bengal.
